

ELEVEN THOUSAND MEN NOW IN CAMP

Four Thousand Men Are Added to Population of Camp Dunne Saturday

Hundreds of Uniforms Needed to Equip Men Who Have En- listed During Last Few Days

KEEN RIVALRY AMONG REGIMENTS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 24.—Eleven thousand men, the entire personnel of the Illinois National Guard with the exception of the fifth and sixth infantry regiments which were not included in the mobilization order of last Sunday, literally slept on their arms here tonight eagerly awaiting a call to the Mexican border.

Approximately four thousand men were added to the population of Camp Dunne today with the arrival of the Third, Fourth and Eighth infantry regiments, the latter a negro regiment from Chicago, and the two former comprised of companies from Aurora, Belvidere, Benton, Cairo, Carbondale, Casey, Champaign, DeKalb, Effingham, Elgin, Heppstone, Newton, Olney, Ottawa, Paris, Pontiac, Shelbyville, Sullivan and Woodstock.

Uniforms are Lacking
Enough guns, ammunition, side arms and other ordnance to arm all the troops here up to war strength arrived from the Rock Island, Ill., arsenal today, but uniforms are still needed to equip hundreds of men who enlisted during the last few days.

Mustered in Federal Service
Practically all the hospital corps here were mustered into the federal service today and considerable progress was made in the preliminaries to mustering in the troops. The federal officer in charge of this work said the first cavalry, the engineers, signal corps and the First, Second and Seventh infantry regiments probably would be mustered in Monday night or early Tuesday. As Illinois has adopted the United States army standard of physical examination, the militiamen will not be examined until after they are mustered into the federal service.

Seventh to Attend Mass
Tomorrow will be a day of rest and prayer for some regiments at Camp Dunne and a day of work for others. Colonel Daniel Moriarty of the "fighting seventh" infantry of "Irish regiment" of Chicago announced tonight his boys would attend mass at 5:45 o'clock tomorrow morning at the grandstand of the fair grounds with Father J. A. Kelly officiating. This same regiment with the same commander and chaplain said mass at the same place and hour in 1898 during the mobilization preceding the Spanish-American war. The third and fourth infantry will spend Sunday filling bed ticks with straw.

Assumes Real Name
A young fellow who enlisted in G company of the "fighting seventh" under the alias of "John O'Brien" several years ago, today was granted permission by Adjutant General Dickson to assume his real name, John Kinnerk, and at the same time was promoted to the position of corporal.

Adjutant General Dickson tonight sent three men to Chicago to organize a provisional company of engineers to be known as Company B. These men are Provisional Captain B. C. Allen and Lieutenants Paul R. Milan and C. W. Breed.

Will Encamp at Camp Dunne
Governor Dunne and his family will encamp this summer at Camp Dunne instead of at Fort Sheridan, the governor's headquarters having been erected today.

Keen rivalry has developed among the various regiments, each desiring to be the first to fill the requirements for federal service and to be the first sent to the border.

Put Up Wireless Stations
Five carloads of ordnance arrived at Camp Dunne today from the government arsenal at Rock Island, Ill. The engineers began erecting wireless stations and it is expected that by night wireless communication between Camp Dunne and Camp Lincoln will be established.

Can Buy Only Tobacco
The sale of all edibles, soda water, lemonade or any other drink was prohibited at Camp Dunne today although the state board of agriculture had granted numerous concessions to refreshment stands. Brigadier General D. Jack Foster, in ordering the stands closed, said the soldiers would get all the food they needed at mess and that he feared candies, lemonades and sandwiches sold about the camp would make them sick. As a result of his order hundreds of civilians in the camp who were not invited to the army mess went hun-

"WAR WEDDINGS" NUMEROUS

Three Ceremonies Occupy Center of Social Stage at Springfield Camps.

Springfield, Ill., June 24.—One "war wedding" tonight and preparations for two others tomorrow occupied the center of the social stage at Camps Lincoln and Dunne. Tonight John Matz, a broker of the so-called "millionaire battery" (C) First battalion, field artillery of Chicago, was married to Miss Frances Schramm of Burlington, Iowa. The ceremony was performed, in marching order and still in military formation escorted the united couple to a hotel at which luncheon was served. Jacob M. Dickinson, former secretary of war, was a guest at this wedding.

Tomorrow Sergeant Harry F. Bross of Pekin, Ill., a member of G troop of the first cavalry from Peoria, will be married to Miss Charles Alexander of Pekin. The ceremony will be performed at the home of Colonel Richings J. Shand. The witnesses will be Adjutant General Dickson and Lieutenant Colonel Charles P. Sommers.

A private of B company, First infantry, whose name Adjutant General Dickson would not divulge today asked the general for 48 hours' leave of absence in which to go to Chicago to be married. General Dickson denied the request but said that if the bride would obtain a 48-hour leave of absence and would come to Springfield, he would supply the minister, and would grant the bridegroom a 24-hour leave of absence. Private Matz and Sergeant Bross each were granted 24 hours' leave.

NEED MORE MACHINISTS
Davenport, Ia., June 24.—Announcements were sent out today that the Rock Island arsenal needed many more machinists and tool-makers, as it is forced to increase the number to comply with the need for munitions. The men are needed particularly for the field artillery department.

FIRE SWEEPS NEEDLES

Flames Destroy Business Section and Bring Death to Five

Needles, Cal., June 24.—Fire swept the desert town of Needles early today, destroying the entire business section and causing the death of at least five persons who were trapped while sleeping in two hotels which were destroyed. Several others were injured in escaping from the blazing structures. The loss was estimated at $175,000.

Fifteen business houses and four residences were destroyed. The fire started from an unknown cause an hour after midnight and spread rapidly among the wooden buildings. It was not under control until after daylight. Several heroic rescues were made.

BODY FOUND IN LAGOON.

Body of Retired Manufacturer Discovered at Washington Park.

Chicago, June 24.—The body of Moses I. Conney, a retired shirt manufacturer who has been missing from his home since June 21, was found in the lagoon at Washington park. Relatives said he apparently had fallen into the water while on his way home at midnight from a card party. Mr. Conney was born in Peoria, Ill.

Chicago, June 24.—Richard Dunne, son of Governor E. F. Dunne of Illinois, and Frances Fitzgerald, daughter of Henry J. Fitzgerald, were married at 10 o'clock this morning in the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel. The groom is a private in D battery of the Illinois national guard and left for the mobilization camp at Springfield shortly after the ceremony was performed. Governor and Mrs. Dunne were present at the ceremony.

REFUGEES CROWD SHIP

Vera Cruz, June 24.—When the Ward Line Steamship Monterey leaves this port tomorrow afternoon every bit of deck space will be occupied by a mass of refugees bound for the United States. Regulations limiting the number of passengers has been waived by the United States government. Only citizens of the United States will be carried on this trip.

Refugees are still coming into Vera Cruz and many boat loads of them were taken to the United States by the Battleship Nebraska today. There has been no disorder here.

AEROPLANES SENT SOUTH.

Columbus, N. M., June 24.—Aeroplanes for scouting purposes were sent south from here today upon imperative orders from General Pershing. The planes are the new 150-horse-power type and each carried a pilot and a observer.

Military censorship at Columbus prevented the number of planes sent south being announced. However, eight bi-planes have been undergoing trial flights there for some weeks.

FIRST WORD FROM RELIEF EXPEDITION

Rescuers Find Six Mem- bers of the Troops at San Luis Ranch

Just How Many Escaped the Wrath of Their Treacher- ous Foe Still Unknown

37 MEN STILL UNACCOUNTED FOR

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, June 24.—The force of the Tenth Cavalry under Captain Charles T. Boyd, succeeded in breaking thru the lines of the Mexican force under General Felix Gomez at Carrizal, according to a message tonight from General Pershing to General Funston, but whether any of them were able to make their escape still is unknown.

Captain Boyd's men of C troop took the ditch in which the front line of Mexican troops were entrenched and charged thru into the town of Carrizal. Troop L, under Captain Lewis Morey, charged with C troop, but were outflanked and forced to take refuge in an adobe house. They at least had a chance to defend themselves from cover but their ultimate fate is unknown as is that of the remnants of Captain Boyd's troop.

News Comes From Expedition.

This news came to General Pershing by courier from Major John M. Jenkins, commanding a squadron of the relief expedition sent out from Colonia Dublan. Major Jenkins also announced he had found five members of C troop of the Tenth Cavalry and one member of K troop at San Luis ranch. They were horse holders as were the other stragglers who have reported. They did not see the finish of the fight but their stories according to Major Jenkins' courier confirmed the stories of the other stragglers that the attack had been opened by Mexican troops without provocation.

Fear All Have Been Killed.

General Pershing said in his report that he did not believe the thirty-seven men still unaccounted for had been captured. This was taken here to mean that he feared Captain Morey's men had not been able to hold out against the overwhelming odds against them even from the shelter of the house in which they had taken refuge and had been killed.

It is hoped, however, that they still may be holding out and Major Jenkins' command is hastening toward Carrizal with all speed to their relief. Major Robert J. Howze with the second squadron of the relief expedition is a day behind Jenkins and is pressing hard to overtake and support him. General Pershing, according to his report has sent provisions and supplies for the wounded and to meet Major Jenkins and Howze on their return march toward Colonia Dublan.

Exhibit Fighting Qualities.

General Pershing reported that troops under Captain Boyd and Captain Morey showed the greatest courage and exhibited the most sterling fighting qualities. No mention of the Mexican cavalry charge reported by the stragglers last night was made in the Pershing report but the fact that the Americans were able to break the Mexican lines after the first attack is believed to give some indication that the charge was checked.

Advance in Face of Machine Guns.

According to stories told by the five men found at San Luis ranch after the Mexicans had opened fire, with several machine guns, Captain Boyd dismounted his men and formed them in line of skirmish. Captain Boyd with C troop led the first line and Captain Morey with K troop the right. They advanced by rushes toward the irrigating ditch, 250 yards distant, which sheltered the main force of Mexican troops and from which the machine gun was spraying their ranks with lead.

Capture Mexican Trench.
Making every shot of their own count, they captured the ditch with one final rush, putting the Mexicans to flight and capturing several machine guns.

Captain Boyd Falls Dead.
Captain Boyd was wounded twice, once in the arm and once in the shoulder. In the final rush on the entrenched Mexicans Captain Boyd fell dead, shot thru the body. Without checking their advance, C troop led by Lieutenant Harry Adair, dashed on after the fleeing Mexicans into the town. That was the last seen of them by the men found at San Luis ranch. Apparently they found themselves in danger of capture from Mexicans approaching from the rear and General Pershing's report gives no further details of the fate of Adair and his men.

Captain Morey Wounded.

Captain Morey was shot thru the shoulder while advancing with K troop on the irrigating ditch. His men, however, were outflanked by a superior force of Mexicans and were forced to take shelter in an adobe house. When last seen they were returning a spirited fire thru windows and loopholes punched in the adobe walls to the Mexicans who entirely surrounded their shelter and were pouring a stream of bullets at every opening.

RAISES NEW POINT OF LAW

Germany Claims Submarines Invented Since War Rules Were Made

Madrid, Friday, June 23.—(Via Paris, June 24)—El Liberal declares that the visit of a German submarine to Cartagena, two days ago raises a new point of international law. Germany has claimed, it says, that submarines are not subject to existing rules, having been invented since they were framed. If this view is accepted El Liberal contends, a submarine should not be entitled to the right of an ordinary warship to enter a neutral port, provided it departs within 24 hours.

The newspaper contends that the submarine was sent to Cartagena for the purpose of making a test trip and that the experiment having succeeded there would be other similar visits.

MUST REPUDIATE AMERICAN ATTACK

Wilson Will Also Demand that All U.S. Prisoners Be Released

Failure to Comply With De- mands Will Result in "Grav- est Consequences"

U. S. HAS NOTHING TO MEDIATE

WASHINGTON, June 24.—A pro-military demand that General Carranza repudiate the attack on American troops at Carrizal and immediately release all captured American soldiers was understood tonight to be the next step in the Mexican crisis contemplated by Washington.

Failure to comply with either demand undoubtedly would result in the gravest consequences, foretold in Secretary Lansing's recent note to the de facto government.

Await Final Report.

Formulation of a communication awaited a final report from General Pershing on the Carrizal incident, pending its receipt the war department pressed urgently today its efforts to prepare for any eventuality. The long delay in finding additional survivors of the fight was regarded as an ominous sign. No American officer may survive. In that event action by the United States, probably would be based on the reports already received from stragglers.

Without exception these reports indicate that the force was trapped and massacred by machine gun fire.

Some Few May Be Left

Some hope persisted tonight that a few of the command, left about in the desert when their horses satiated under the Mexican fire, may have dug themselves in somewhere west of Carrizal and be waiting for relief.

General Pershing's cavalry supports were nearing the scene of the tragedy and were said to have picked up a number of survivors.

Private advices from Mexico City continued to indicate that General Carranza still hoped to find a way to evade the storm his policy has aroused.

Have Nothing to Mediate

No offers of mediation reached the state department from any source. Administration officials held that they have nothing to mediate. A mediation plan resting on a military status quo during negotiations would prevent any operations beyond the border to break up bandit organizations before they become dangerous. Under these circumstances it was intimated on high authority that efforts toward preservation of peace concerning the initiation of which the minister of Salvador was authorized today to confer with his diplomatic colleagues could go no further than an attempt to persuade General Carranza to change his attitude toward the determination of the United States to protect its people and territory. A report reached here today that General Carranza and his cabinet had prepared a reply to the last American note. The report said it would be published in Mexico City tomorrow, but it did not say when it would be sent here. Ambassador Arredondo had no information that a decision had been reached by his government as to its next step. Special Agent Rodgers at the Mexican capital has no inkling as to what may be expected from Carranza.

If a reply has been prepared already officials are inclined to believe it forebodes a hostile answer.

"During the night our trenches about Givenchy and west of Messines were bombarded. Northeastward of Arras our patrols brought in some prisoners."

"Northward of the Hohenzollern redoubt the enemy sprang a mine a short distance in front of our trenches. No damage was done. Later reports show that the hostile attack southward of Messines reported yesterday was a bombardment of gas shells."

MAKES A RECORD.

Tom Hughes of Braves Pitches 15 2-3 Innings Without a Hit.

Philadelphia, June 24.—Tom Hughes of the Boston Nationals is said to have made a new record for consecutive hitless innings here today when he went into the Philadelphia game as a relief pitcher. About two weeks ago he pitched two thirds of an inning against Cincinnati without yielding a hit. Later he pitched a no-hit game against Pittsburgh and after that twirled 1-3 innings against New York as a relief pitcher without permitting a hit. Today he held the Phillies for 2-3 innings before a hit was made off him, giving him a record of 15 2-3 consecutive innings without a hit. The previous record is said to have been held by Harry Hedges of Petersburg, in the Virginia League, who pitched 14 hitless innings in 1914.

MUSTERED IN AT ONCE.

Massachusetts Troops are Mustered in Federal Service.

Boston, June 24.—Half of the Massachusetts troops mobilized at the Framingham Camp will be mustered into the service of the United States government tonight, Adjutant General Cole announced. The other half will be mustered in tomorrow morning so that the whole force numbering upwards of 8,000 will be ready to move to the Mexican border by tomorrow noon if necessary.

TO CARE FOR DEPENDENTS.

Governor Dunne Urges Formation of Charitable Organizations.

Springfield, Ill., June 24.—Governor Dunne and Adjutant General Dickson today urged the formation of organizations in Illinois cities to care for families left without support thru the mobilization of the state militia.

The desire of the state military authorities was made following a conference here with a committee of the Springfield Commercial association which asked approval of a movement to care for the families of Springfield militiamen who have no income beyond the private's pay of 56 cents a day.

All business, social and religious organizations in this city will co-operate in the movement.

250 RECRUITS ENLIST.

Chicago, June 24.—More than 250 recruits joined other United States army or the Illinois national guard today, it was estimated tonight at the recruiting headquarters. Many also joined the three provisional regiments that are being recruited here.

ANDREW RUSSEL, CANDIDATE FOR STATE AUDITOR

Andrew Russel has determined not to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of Illinois but is a candidate for state auditor. Announcement to this effect was made by Mr. Russel in Chicago yesterday. He is not aligned with any faction in state politics but will seek preferment solely on the basis of his fitness for office and his record as a Republican.

Mr. Russel, tho by no means an old man, has had forty-two years of banking experience, and his term of service in connection with the state treasurer's office has also qualified him for the duties of the office which he is now seeking. As auditor of the state Mr. Russel would thus bring to the office the business and financial experience gathered thru a long period of years. He has been so intimately connected with Republican party affairs in the state that he has friends in every one of the 102 counties of the state. Not long since a well known political leader in Chicago declared that Mr. Russel has a greater personal following than any other man in the state. This is accepted as true, even by some of those not politically aligned with Mr. Russel and these conditions, make for his strength in any campaign.

While his plans for the next few months have not been fully outlined, Mr. Russel will be certain to conduct an active canvass and to throw himself into the campaign with characteristic force and enthusiasm. Mr. Russel has entered the campaign for the auditorship with most excellent chances of winning the nomination, and his name on the ticket will add strength to the whole.

Educational Democracy

A plan recently adopted by a number of colleges and universities conferring upon the members of the faculty the right to meet with the trustees has attracted a good deal of favorable comment. The democratization of college management is accounted as the main purpose of the plan. This applies with more force to the large universities than to the small colleges, for the intimacy of the line of trustees, faculty and students in the smaller colleges is one of the advantages that can consistently be claimed for the smaller institutions. In the great universities things are different and it is believed that a more friendly relationship between faculty members and trustees will be beneficial to the institutions. Cornell is the latest university to announce that this plan will be tried. If there is one place above another where democracy belongs, it certainly is in the world of education, for the real aristocracy of brains is manifested by democracy of spirit.

A Co-Operative War Fund

The work of the federal council of the Churches of Christ in America in the distribution of funds for European war relief is being widely commended. The federal council, as defined by an officer, is an organization of the churches of thirty denominations in this country including 144,113 ministers and 17,742,509 communicants. The organization was completed in Philadelphia early in 1908 and meets quadrennially and consists of about 400 qualified delegates. Much of the work of this great organization in the past two years has been in relieving the distress in war stricken lands. It is a contribution sent to the council. One reason that the work has been so widely commended has been found in the fact that no new organization has been created, and therefore the overhead charges in the securing of contributions and distribution thereof come from the treasury of the council. This means that when a dollar is given for a war fund that a dollar reaches the fund.

The youth who'd reach a higher place, his duties does not shrink; the cheerful smile upon his face shows that he likes his work. In earning trust and confidence he takes a keen delight; but the worthless oaf begins to loaf, when the Boss is out of sight. The chap who gets the good fat check when his week's work is thru, is he who always is on deck, when there is work to do, who toils as bravely when alone as when the Boss is near; but the worthless runt neglects his stunt should the Old Man disappear.

DATES IN ILLINOIS HISTORY.

June 25, 1673—Joliet and Marquette arrived at the villages of the Illinois Indians.

The council does not attempt to recommend one special line of relief work but seeks to secure funds for all that are considered worthy, and presents from time to time the facts about special conditions of suffering in the countries at war. The federal council is doing much therefore, not only to relieve suffering, but to bring to pass co-operative effort among the churches in their religious and charity work.

More Foes Than One.

At least one of the Springfield papers, as soon as the mobilization order of the state troops began, hurried about to secure special advertising for a number of the Springfield saloons. In contrast to that special advertising, the Protestant and Catholic churches of Springfield numbering forty-two yesterday carried a page announcement under the heading "Constructive Patriotism," with the names and address of the pastors and priests.

The purposes as outlined briefly under the heading, was explained in these significant words, "Appreciating the serious condition now confronting our country and very great responsibility resting upon our soldiers, realizing the dangers and hazards of warfare and the supreme importance of moral and spiritual preparedness—and knowing how easy it is to fall into temptation and to heed the luring call of the destructive and ruining forces which bid only for the soldiers' money and manhood—we, the following churches of Springfield, thru our pastors and our members, with no interest save the soldier and the country which he serves, no plea save for a finer and cleaner manhood, and no compensation save the joy of service, stand ready day and night in every way possible to serve the boys in or out of the camps."

This is a significant statement and indicates quite clearly that not all the foes which the soldier must meet are in Mexico.

Looking Back to Custer.

Today marks the fortieth anniversary of the historic battle of the Little Bighorn, in Montana, familiarly known as Custer's massacre. It was there June 25, 1876, that General Custer and his brave supporters met death. The general, with 600 men, had been sent forward to the Little Bighorn to attack a camp of Sioux Indians if he deemed best. His troops covering the distance of 100 miles in three days and Custer learning that the Indians were ahead prepared to attack them. He divided his command, giving Capt. Reno three companies, Capt. Benteen three and retaining five himself. It was the original plan that Custer should support Reno, but instead he passed around him on the east side of the river and was furiously attacked by a large body of Sioux. Surrounded on a ridge the whole command was wiped out in less than two hours' time.

The address at the memorial on the historic battle field today will be made by General E. S. Godfrey, survivor of the Custer famous 7th cavalry. It is a significant fact that between two and three thousand Indians will take part in the celebration today and that fact emphasizes as nothing else could the changes which have come in the intervening years since Custer and his supporters laid down their lives in the battle with the redmen. Now the "pale face" and the red man gather together to commemorate one of the battles which helped in a large way to change the relations between the white man and the Indians to what they are today. As the thoughts turn backward forty years there naturally comes a forward glance as it is remembered that American troops may soon meet Mexican forces. There are many Indians across the border but they are far different in physique and temperament from the "United States" "redskins." In fact they have none of the characteristics of the "noble" red man of the forest and their place in Mexico is practically that of slaves. They are a down-trodden race without the brave characteristics or any kind of hardihood, and as foes are not likely to prove worthy of the name.

Ceremony was Solemnized in Springfield Saturday Morning — Announcement a Surprise to Many of Their Friends.

Edward P. Alexander and Miss Mary Hook of this city were married in Springfield Saturday morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. Donald C. McLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The engagement had been on open secret for some time but only immediate relatives knew the date for the wedding.

The Hook home is nearby and thus began the acquaintance which culminated in the marriage yesterday. Mr. Alexander is in the insurance business, a man of excellent report.

After a brief wedding journey the bride and groom will return to Jacksonville and it is understood they will live at 140 Caldwell street.

PICTURES OF SOLDIERS.

In the window at the Farmers' State Bank and Trust company a series of 25 or 30 pictures of soldiers in uniform attract a great deal of attention. The pictures are all done in colors and present a sort of historic pageantry of army life dating back several hundred years. The pictures are interesting as they show the changes which have come from decade to decade and century to century, and of special point now that war talk is rife. However, these pictures, like those that commonly appear in front of recruiting stations, show the "gold braid and brass buttons" part of army life and leave the fighting and training to the imagination.

The Peerless Mitchell Car

JOHN W. BATE, the efficiency engineer, is in charge of Mitchell production.

He designed the model factory, which now covers 45 acres. He equipped it with 2092 minute-saving machines.

The $5,000,000 Mitchell plant is now conceded to be the most efficient in the world for building cars of this class.

His genius for efficiency is also shown in a thousand details of the car itself.

It appears in utter simplicity. It appears in a wealth of Chrome-Vanadium steel.

It is shown in 184 drop forgings, in 256 steel stampings—largely displacing parts heavier, more brittle and less strong.

37 engineers, each a notable expert, most of them of nationwide fame, selected the Mitchell as the car for their personal use. They did it of their own volition. The fact is that these men—who can understand—bought the Mitchell for themselves. And by this choice they certify the Mitchell as a masterpiece of modern engineering.

THE SPIRIT OF '76.

The spirit of '76 still lives.

'Tis abroad in our land today.

'Tho we hear it not in the beating drum,

Nor the fife's and bugle's play.

But we feel its presence in the air.

We breathe it on the plains.

And it ever dwells in the hearts of men

Where love of freedom reigns.

It is imaged in the eyes we meet,

In the hand we clasp it thrills,

And we catch a note of its magic charm,

In the singing brook and rills,

The tint we see in the petals rare

Of the blooming blood-red rose,

Is like the stream from the wound

Of men

That gushed in that spirits' throes.

It blends in those colors waving high,

It glows in our nation's heart.

And we feel and know forevermore,

It is of that life a part.

If jarred one note of this common chord,

Like one of a thousand strings,

The very pulses of the nation throbs

And that spirit to action springs.

Thus they receive common sense suggestions drawn from a vast volume of experience, and thousands of sick women have been saved from untold suffering, as letters like the following clearly show:

Newark, Ohio.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman. Your Sanative Wash is just the thing to overcome female weakness. I have told young mothers as well as older ones about your remedies, and what they have done for me. I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved my life, as my health was very bad when I wrote you, but now I can do my own work and have not had a sick day since I began taking your remedies. I keep the Compound and Liver Pills on hand all the time."—Mrs. Geo. Thompson, 24 Sherwood Court, Newark, Ohio.

THE WAR A YEAR AGO TODAY
June 25
The Italians continue their advance along the Isonzo, occupying Globna, north of Pavia, and the edge of the plateau between Sagrada and Monfalcone on the lower reaches of the river.

Big German forces that crossed to the left bank of the Dnieper near Kosany are driven back across the river by the Russians with heavy losses.

The Germans also forced back across the Dnieper near Martnow by a Russian counter attack, losing 1,700 prisoners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Miller were city callers yesterday.

Stuck.

The standpat poet wooed his muse To write a rhapsody on Hughes; He yielded to a fit of blues— The only rhyme that came was "lose" W. Kee Maxwell, Peoria Journal.

Loose Again.

The standpat poet wooed his muse And wrote a rhapsody on Hughes; Tho it may be an unwelcome news We'll bet he is the one they choose.

The scarcity of machine guns probably can be accounted for by the fact that we have been shipping them down to Mexico for the last few years.

President Wilson and Mr. Hughes will soon be officially notified of their nomination for president by the notification committees of their respective parties. We earnestly hope that they won't be so surprised that it will give them an attack of heart disease.

The Mexican plank in the Democratic platform seems to be warping a little bit.

Anent the Mexican situation a lot of people have commenced to ask in the language of the Hon. Billy Mason, "How Long, Oh, Lord, How Long?"

The war poets have broken out but we are laying even money they will have some difficulty in rhyming some of the Mexican names.

In finally deciding not to be a candidate for governor President James probably had in mind that Biblical quotation, "Many are called but few are chosen."

Everybody seems to be worrying more about General Pershing's command than Pershing himself. When one remembers the record that General Pershing made in the Philippines it would seem that he is fully able to take care of himself under any and all conditions.

He said that we should intervene And whip the Mexicans, But when they called for volunteers, He was among the "also rans."

Two Chicago policemen recovered a stolen automobile and then took a joy ride in it. They are now on trial before the police trial board. In our opinion a Chicago policeman is entitled to a little joy ride for having to be a policeman in that city.

To the innocent bystander it looks as tho something is being handed this section of Illinois by not calling out the Fifth regiment.

And likewise it may difficult for certain candidates to explain the situation to the voters next fall.

Warren Luttrell in the Franklin Times asks what has become of the sport who used to wear a red vest. He is still with us, only now instead of a red vest he wears trousers that strike him half way between the knees and ankles and has his hair cut with a tuft in front similar to that affected by an Apache Indian.

The manufacturers of Wine of Cardui won their libel suit in Chicago the other day, the jury awarding them one cent damages. It will require the sale of several bottles of the medicine to pay the court costs and lawyers fees in the case.

Ordinarily we would not advocate compulsory military service but we know a large number of husky young men in Jacksonville who stand around on the street corners smoking cigars and ogling every woman who passes that it would do a world of good to hike over the mountains and deserts of Mexico for a few months.

LITTLE CHANGE IN STOCK MARKET

Small Variation from Recent Irregularity—Representative Stocks Hold Their Own.

New York, June 24.—With the Mexican situation still hanging in the balance the week end session of the stock market varied little from the recent irregularity. Vulnerable specialties were again pressed for sale, tho more moderately, but representative stocks held their own, when not making actual gains.

Operation were obviously professional and the general price improvement noted at the close resulted to a considerable extent from short covering. Rails were favorably effected. Bethlehem steel, on relatively few transactions, made a gain of 17 points. Motors also rose materially, but Mexicans and coppers were variable. Total sales of stocks amounted to 185,000 shares.

Future exports of gold from Canada brought the total amount to about $80,000,000 exclusive of direct shipments from the west to the Philadelphia mint.

United States bonds and the Panama issues were lower by 1/2 to 2 on call during the week.

RAINS HAVE BULLISH

EFFECT ON WHEAT

Check Harvest in Southwest—Corn And Oats Quotations Rise.

Chicago, June 24.—Rains that checked the harvest in the southwest had a bullish effect today on wheat. After an almost continuous display of strength, the market closed firm, 1 to 1 1/2c net higher, with July $1.00 and Sept., at $1.03. Other commodities too made gains—corn 1/4 @ 1/2c, oats 1/4 @ 1/2c and provisions 50 to 57c.

Shorts in wheat covered freely during the last part of the session after commission houses had absorbed the surplus offerings. There was an evident widespread desire to reduce open risks rather than to carry commitments over Sunday, regardless of the fact that no present demand from Europe was apparent for United States wheat either old or new. In corn as in wheat, the week had evening up the market helped to make prices bulge. Besides, country offerings were meager and there were predictions that stocks here would show on Monday a falling off of more than 1,000,000 bushels.

Oats rose with other grain. Unfavorable crop reports were received from sections in Illinois, Iowa and Indiana. Bulls in provisions who sold out in the last few days were trying today to reinstate lines. However, despite weakness of the hog market, offerings during most of the session were light. Accordingly, after a brief dip, prices soared a sharp general advance.

SUFFRAGE NEWS LETTER

The Illinois Equal Suffrage Association Headquarters at 603 Tower Building, Chicago, will remain open throughout the summer owing to a well planned rotation of vacations by members of the Executive Board.

In order to raise a fund to maintain a lobby in Springfield next winter to work for full suffrage for women, the finance chairman of the State Association has been giving out yellow and black celluloid dime banks which, when filled, are to be returned to the suffrage headquarters where the keys are kept.

Members of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association are donating the use of their automobiles for weekly tours to the homes of suburban suffragists where conferences on suffrage topics are held. Each guest pays a dollar for her seat in the automobile. The money thus raised will be turned into the suffrage treasury to help make full suffrage a fact in Illinois. Women from all over the country as well as from other parts of Illinois will take advantage of this opportunity to strengthen the bond of good feeling established by their united efforts to make the suffrage parade a success.

So much enthusiasm and interest has been aroused by the suffrage parade and over activities of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association that the Chicago Association of Commerce has urged the Association to hold its next convention in Chicago, Galesburg and Monmouth suffragists have also sent cordial invitations to Mrs. Harrison Monroe Brown, state president, extending the hospitality of their cities for the 48th Annual Convention to be held in the Fall. At this time delegates from practically every county in the state will assemble to discuss plans for the suffrage campaign to be waged continuously until every woman in the country is enfranchised.

Greatness of Service Emphasized

By Rev. J. F. Langston

The following is the address by Rev. J. F. Langston to the graduating class of the training school at Pasaunt Memorial hospital:

"Young Women of the Graduating Class:

"It gives me very great personal pleasure to speak to you this evening. After much reflection upon a subject, I have selected: 'The Service of the Commonplace,' as the theme of the message I shall bring; and as a Baccalaureate sermon must or should have a text, I have taken the Epistle to the Ephesians, 6th chapter and opening sentence of the 7th verse, 'With good will doing service,' as my text.

"As I stand before you tonight I recall a visit made not very long ago, to the 'National Portrait Gallery' in London, one of England's great halls of fame. There amid the many who have been illustrious in her history, I had expected to see the great Elizabeth who contributed so much to England's greatness, or perhaps Victoria, whose reign marked so wonderful an epoch in her progress, in the place of honour but no, in the most conspicuous place on the principal floor of the magnificent building amid all the pageantry of Royalty was the portrait of a woman in simple garb—the nurse, Florence Nightingale, and I read the other day in an English paper that the portrait of that other nurse, Edith Cavell—who so recently died a martyr in the cause of humanity—is to be placed directly opposite as a fit companion picture and I cannot but think these portraits, will in the years to come teach lessons of inspiration and service.

"It is a significant fact that this is a woman's age. One by one the various avenues of self-expression have been opened to her. You have chosen one of these—an honored profession, that of the trained nurse. For centuries it has been the part of women to minister to the sick. Long before the Christian era—in Japan a temple was dedicated to the Empress who washed the feet of lepers. And down thru the years the heart of humanity has been touched by the devotion of saintly women to those who needed care.

"It was Florence Nightingale, who rendered the great service to mankind when she organized the first training school for women nurses. It is more than 60 years since the whole world was gazing intently upon the gentle figure of a nurse who moved among the horrors of the hospitals of Scutari and brought a benediction on all about her.

"We see her today that heroine in the romance of life, as she passed down thru those four miles of beds, 18 inches apart. Each with its burden of pain and suffering, turning her passion of pity and service upon them. We love to think of her as a ministering angel moving with her lamp down those avenues of suffering soldiers. And slow as in a dream of bliss the speechless sufferer turns to kiss her shadow as it falls upon the darkened walls." After the war she set sail for England and the world rang with her name.

"She was more than a heroine of romance says A. G. Gardner. 'She is the greatest woman of action England produced in the last century—perhaps the greatest woman of action she has ever produced.' She is one of those rare personalities who reshape the contours of life. She was not simply the woman with a passion for relieving suffering, but she was a woman gifted with a brain and a will. Gifted with a vision of what women might do—what service the commonplace woman might render—and she pointed the way to much that has been accomplished today. She saw the sick ministered to, by the type of nurse so powerfully depicted by Charles Dickens—and she gave her life to a task of reform—she drove the Sarah Gamps out of the profession.

"She was a pioneer in the great work of the nurse of today. So her title to rank among the great figures of history is unchallenged for she instituted a permanent reform. Perhaps it would be truer to say she worked a revolution so potent that she raised the occupation of nurse to the dignity of a profession and every nurse is today in a true sense a product of that revolution. As has been said, 'She has made nursing a science; she has given it laws; she has revealed the psychology of suffering; she has moved mountains, but her ideal is still far off. For she wanted not only a profession of nurses but a nation of nurses. Every mother a health nurse and every nurse an atom in the hierarchy of the minister of the Highest. Such a woman—in a very real way is your ideal. As she was 'a minister of the highest' so are you all called to a like service. She was a woman of courage.

"There are two forms of courage, the courage of the crisis and the courage of the commonplace. It is easy to have courage at a crisis for there is always sure to be the applause of admiring friends. The commonplace often takes the form of drudgery or common tasks. To meet these with a smiling face, and daunted will, a serene heart, to be master of our fate and captain of our soul; this is often the hardest task but also the noblest and bravest thing in life, the real test of our character and fitness for life. One of the world's needs today is the woman of your profession who are brave enough to face unromantic duties. The ministry which is needed today is for one to go naturally, cheerfully and joyfully to the dull commonplace work as it presents itself each day. You are entering today with eagerness and confidence upon the life for which you have been trained; you have passed that mystical dividing line which, but a few minutes ago, separated you from the trained nurse, across that line you go with splendid courage, with large plans, with high ideals, hoping to justify the faith of your friends and of your Alma Mater.

"Straightway you will meet the monotony and routine, you will encounter plain tasks and be called upon to perform ordinary duties—commonplace duties. May it be years to perform these commonplace duties uncommonly well. We all need to consider the commonplace as the proper field for the exercise of heroes. The very fact that life is often dull and difficult makes the conquest of the situation glorious. The commonplace life is unimaginably rich in opportunity. The daily task of every nurse is large enough and important enough to challenge the energies and talents of the best members of any training class. 'The life of the whole world was changed,' says one, 'by a man who perceived with attention and imagination the force of the commonplace steam which came out of a commonplace tea kettle.'

"This is but a symbol of the significance of the commonplace. How many lives have been lived in obscurity and poverty, outwardly dull, prosaic, commonplace, and yet something of the glory of the spirit of service exemplified by the Divine Master. It is often said of Charles Dickens that he could not portray the character of a great woman. This is entirely untrue, in 'Our Mutual Friend,' he has given us Lizzie Hexham. She was the daughter of a river thief;—a vile wretch unspcakably filthy; they lived amid the fog, the gloom, the wretchedness, the poverty and the misery of the poor of London, who live on the banks of the Thames. She was a good girl, pure and clean in an environment of moral and physical impurity; her early life was an unending battle, against her father's life of sin and crime. She endured taunts, blows, hunger, cold and privation; resisted all efforts to place her in better surroundings, why? because as her mother lay dying she had promised that she would make a home for her father and young brother, try to save them and protect her weak erring brother from their father's cruelty, she fought and lived her life of commonplace service heroically. I venture to think her one of Dickens' greatest characters, if not the greatest in all fiction. When in London I was told Mr. Dickens drew her from life. I am perfectly sure of it.

"I ask you to read this girl's story if you have not done so. Under differing conditions how many Lizzie Hexhams there are giving beauty and glory to the commonplace.

"The hero is the person who does the right thing when it is terribly hard to do it.

"You will all have to face hard situations where there are no shining rewards awaiting you. When there will be no applause for doing the right thing but the courage to do the commonplace service uncommonly well is a field wide enough to enlist all your powers of mind and heart.

"Our Lord glorified the commonplace. He sets out to conquer the world in ways that seem to us ineffective. He made plain fishermen His intimate friends. He preached to the common people, His Apostles and their successors were mostly commonplace men, doing simple service but they transformed the world. They have taught us all how to glorify the daily life by doing the common, the routine drudgery each day with cheerfulness and courage.

"This commonplace world of ours was the beautiful world of Christ. 'The world in which we are now living was the one in which He lived and worked on thru the days of His appointed time. The duties laid upon our hearts are like those that were measured out to Him.

"And so the Word had breath and wrought. 'With human hands the Creed of Creeds. 'In loveliness of perfect deeds, 'More strong than all poetic thought.' 'The example set before us for our emulation is that of one who did the humblest of these duties with the same faithfulness and love of service as characterized Him in His higher service, as the word of God and the Saviour of mankind.

"Bishop Boyd Carpenter says: 'We are enlarging our thoughts when we lay aside the demand for the miraculous and the marvellous, we enlarge our thoughts of God when we say God is not only in the startling thing but also in the commonplace things of life. God is not only in the cleft rock, He is also in the quiet hill and in the soft meadow. He is not only in the cloven sea or the Jordan struck asunder, but also in the little brook that bubbles at our feet. He is not only in the sweep of an archangel descending into our midst, He is in the face of a little child that climbs upon our knees for kisses. He is not only in the fire which falls down from heaven, He is also in the faces of the sick and the weary and the needy that demand our assistance.'

"As you go to join the ranks of the trained women of your profession uphold the high traditions of your chosen calling, which are your rich inheritance. Hold before you that ideal of the woman who said, 'Every nurse is an atom in the hierarchy of the minister of the highest.'

"Yours is a profession where there is great chance for growth. A nurse should have the broadest culture; touch life at as many points as possible, so as to bring to her work, a breadth of view and a largeness of outlook that will glorify and ennoble all the commonplace service she may be called to render.

"If I can help you tonight to discover the unrecognized blessings in seemingly insignificant things I shall be glad. There is a branch of Education which may not be laid down in your curriculum but which may be of much value to you. May I point it out. It goes hand in hand with the service and the courage of the commonplace. It is the habit of cultivating life's small pleasures—to find keen enjoyment in the unexpected, in the little events and things of life. It may be a little child's laughter, the smile of a friend, the beauty of a passing cloud, the flight of a bird, the work of the ant, the glory of the out of doors in spring, the wonderful autumn tints, and the soft evening light under the glory

VOODOO DOCTOR MEETS WITH BAD LUCK

John Horl, a colored man who professes to be a Voodoo doctor, medium and general all round expert in the ghost line is in hard luck. Horl came here several months ago with a woman who was supposed to be his wife. Later he married Stella Johnson and both of the women have been living in the same house on Wolcott street.

The course of true love did not run smoothly for Horl. At any rate, that seems to be the case at the present time for Stella Horl, the woman he married here went before Justice Dyer Saturday and swore out a warrant for his arrest. The charge was threats to kill. Horl was unable to give bond in the sum of $50 and was sent to jail to await his hearing Tuesday at 9 o'clock.

It requires a high degree of skill and technical education. She is given a great responsibility. It has been a favorite study to indicate the steps of progress in any profession—to watch the rising of a thought in one mind, it's communication to other minds and then its general acceptance by the world. The functions of the trained nurse have expanded and will continue to expand, so long as we hold our ideals high and still higher.

The Coming Baby! Hooray! Hooray!

Some Timely And Helpful Remarks for the Benefit of the Expectant Mother

Nothing else can so completely endure to the present and the future as the aid of the expectant arrival of a baby, but in the meantime the comfort of the mother is of vast importance. There is a splendid external remedy known as "Mother's Friend" which exerts a wonderful influence upon the expanding muscles. They become more pliant, stretch without undue pain, make the period one of pleasant anticipation instead of apprehension. In a series of splendid letters from all over the country mothers tell of the great help "Mother's Friend" was to them.
Even grandmothers tell the wonderful story to their own daughters about to enter the state of motherhood. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today of your nearest druggist.
It should be remembered that this splendid remedy is for external use only. Great care should always be exercised in using medicine for internal use. And it may be safely said that by the daily application of "Mother's Friend" there will be such ease and comfort as to rid the mind of the notion that internal medicine is necessary during this momentous period of expectancy. "Mother's Friend" is recommended by a host of women.

Use this splendid help with your own hand guided by your own mind. For a free book of interest and importance to all mothers write to Bradfield Herdicator Co., 809 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It relates the personal experiences of many happy mothers. It tells many things that all women should be familiar with. It is at once a guide and an inspiration. Write for this book.

Quality First

I Have a 3400 r. d. m. Ready This Minute For You

This certainly is a great year for selling cars. Most everybody has had success.
Some more than others, as is always the case.

Chalmers sales are running 900 per cent ahead of last year all over the United States.
Mr. Chalmers' foresight in doubly providing against a shortage of materials has won a great contest.

It has enabled the Chalmers plant to keep on building cars when one or two have shut down or others have had to cut down on allotments to their dealers.

Here it is June and the great Chalmers plant is running day and night, three shifts, turning out more cars than ever before.

How long can Chalmers keep filling the demand?

I don't know. I know only this: the plant is turning out about 125 a day; Chalmers dealers are selling about 425 a day.

The only reason I or any other dealer can supply a car now is because during December, January and February the Chalmers plant worked day and night like Trojans and built about 125 cars a day when the dealers were selling probably only about 80. Soon these 425-a-day sales are going to eat up the surplus made during the Winter months.

I got a letter a few days ago from the Chalmers plant which simply said: "We have on hand orders asking for immediate shipment of cars whose value is in excess of $8,000,000."

I need not narrate the rest of the note which was so obviously subtle that I got the telegraph operators on the job right off.

I'm making my promises on delivery from day to day. I've got cars or can get them now. This may not hold good tomorrow.

Next week I shall cut my promises down still more. Remember, there are only two things that I concern myself with these days. One is to get you to take one ride in a 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers if you have not done so already. That's all I want. The car speaks in a language you'll understand.

The other thing is simply one of mathematics: If the Chalmers factory can turn out 125 cars a day and Chalmers dealers all over the United States are selling 425 a day, how long will the supply last?

Price still unchanged—$1090 Detroit.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS
Kentland, Ind.—Miss Mezza C. Wood of this city has gone to Germany on the unusual errand of collecting her fiancé's inheritance. The young man himself, Walter Herman Arnold of Chicago, a student at Northwestern University, is a German and fit material for the trenches, and upon setting foot on German soil would at once be transformed into a hero whether he liked it or not—that is, if he were not held up on the high seas by England as a German reservist and properly sent home. Miss Wood, being an American, and therefore subject to none of these perils, has sailed with papers from Arnold giving her power to act. They will be married when she returns.

Philadelphia, Pa.—A novel experiment for girl students in its post-graduate course in household science is to be tried out this summer by Temple University. The idea consists of leasing an entire hotel at Ocean Grove, N. J., turning it over to the students under the direction of Dr. John B. Leeds, professor of household economics, and allow them to manage it. The hotel, which will accommodate about 50 guests, will have all the conveniences that it is possible to equip it with, and the young women will be told to go ahead and provide for them. Besides providing actual practice along the lines studied by the young women, the plan will also bring remunerative work to many girls obliged to pay their way thru the course, and who will get pay to act as waitresses.

Fort Worth, Texas.—Mrs. Mary Jane Skidmore of this city, who, according to all information available is one of three living daughters of the American Revolution, will celebrate her 87th birthday tomorrow. The event will be commemorated by patriotic exercises decreed by the national chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and in charge of the local chapter, Mrs. Skidmore's father, Jonas Frazee, served three years under Washington, heard the Liberty-Bell ring at Philadelphia and was presented a Bible by Mrs. William Henry Harrison while the latter's husband was President of the United States.

New York—Miss Kathleen Howard, who is to sing at the Metropolitan Opera House next season, will be married tomorrow to Edward Kellogg Bald of this city. The ceremony will take place at St. Thomas's church. Miss Howard is a contralto and sang at the Royal Opera House at Darmstadt several seasons, after several years of study in Paris and Germany. Upon returning to her country, she sang with the Century Opera Company, of which Mr. Bald was president. She has attracted wide attention not only as one of the coming stars of the American operatic stage but also for her adoption of Chinese dress, which she finds more rational and more economical as well as much more artistic than the usual garb of women.

Topeka, Kan.—The boast of St. Louis that the only woman deputy United States marshal serves in that city is challenged by Miss Nancy Robertson of this city who has been in the employ of the United States as deputy marshal for three months, serving in the office of Marshal O. T. Woods. Miss Robertson travels thru the State serving papers and attending to the routine duties of the office. She is a sister of District Attorney Fred Robertson.

THE TROUBLE IN MEXICO.

Editor the Journal:

If you will afford me some space and attention I will endeavor to explain my views of the disturbance over the Mexican question.

In the last twenty-five years thirty business men have established themselves in Mexico and builded for their private material gain an industrial system that has reduced the Mexican working people to an abject condition of penance, which is far more wretched and impoverished than wage slavery.

In late years after enlightenment and culture began to spread among them, the desire for liberty and justice became a cause for revolt against a master class government.

Therefore in the enlightened ones demand for a change in the industrial and political system, revolution in blood shedding has resulted.

This revolution has been the activity of thousands of Mexican working people who in mass have taken up arms to force their demands.

This struggle is the same that all advanced peoples have gone thru to enlarged spheres of democratic liberty.

Wherever mass strife or war has existed there inevitably follows bands of fighters who have become unreasonable and wild because of personal grudges. The Villa band of soldier-cut-throats were of this extremist type.

The sending of U. S. troops into Mexico has scattered these border bands of rangers, and put a fear into them that will insure peace and safety along the border, so now, President Carranza has asked that the troops be recalled. We will ask—is his request unreasonable?

Suppose we were in the same predicament—would we be more tolerant? The fact that we are strong and rich and Mexico poor and distracted does not alter the case unless we admit the standard that might makes right.

It is a fact that millions of dollars of American capital is invested in Mexico, and "business" down there since the revolution has not been very good.

These fellows that invested down there took their chances—a game of chance—as it is anywhere, so while we sympathize with them in their losing game we fail to see any obligation upon the United States to invade that country or shed American boys' blood on account of the "rat fellows" had luck.

Any one knows that to put armed troops in a foreign country or keep them there against that country's will is an act of war.

If the guardian of the Democratic party would act wisely and "keep the United States out of war" he will see that all troops are immediately recalled, and peaceful negotiation begun between the two countries.

Your Problem?

There are some problems which nearly all men have in common. One of these is to provide for those dependent upon them. When the head of the family is taken by death is a critical time. Affairs of property, well ordered before, may quickly become complicated in hands unaccustomed to business. A man should above everything else plan to meet this situation. In this, nothing is of more importance than proper consideration of one's WILL, and the selection of the agency to carry out its provisions.

The management of estates and trusts can be carried on much better by Trust Companies than by individuals. Trust Companies are engaged in this business every day, have every facility to care for such business, are absolutely responsible, always accessible and permanent.

The man of moderate means as well as the man of wealth—every man who owns real estate and numbers among his heirs a minor or one who requires special provision can provide Trust Company service for the benefit of those dependent upon him and thereby conserve his estate for their use.

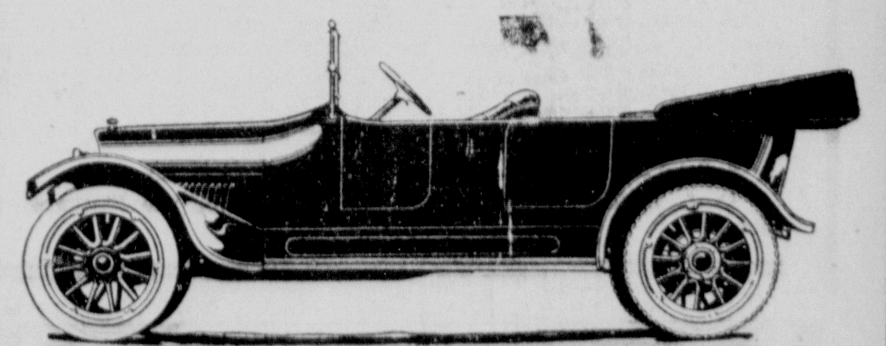

The information and experience of the officers of this company are available to you without expense, and you are cordially invited to confer, at any time and in strict confidence, with these officers in regard to this or any trust or banking business.

BATTALION OF WEALTHY CHICAGO MEN NOW AT CAMP LINCOLN

Every Officer a College Graduate—Equipment is Complete and Men are Superbly Trained

The Second battalion of the First field artillery, from Chicago now at Camp Lincoln is made up entirely of college men, many of whom are men of large influence and great wealth. The Springfield Register gives the following interesting story of this very interesting and very strong battalion.

The Second battalion, First field artillery, now at Camp Lincoln and commanded by a former Springfield boy, Major Charles R. Vincent of Chicago, son of Judge William A. Vincent and grandson of the late Charles Ridgely of this city, doubtless represents more capital and so-called "big business" than any national guard organization in state or nation.

Not only is Major Vincent a Springfield boy, but he married a Springfield girl, Miss Margaret Tiffany, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Tiffany. Major Vincent went to Chicago last night to accompany Mrs. Vincent to Springfield. She will visit here until her husband and his command are ordered to Mexico.

Everyone of the 420 members of the battalion is a college man. Every officer is a college graduate. There are several multi-millionaires in the command. One of them, George Francis Griffin, head of the Griffin Wheel Works in Chicago, is said on good authority to be worth $125,000,000. He has an annual income of $100,000. Yesterday he went to Chicago to file a $9,000,000 bond covering a portion of the estate.

Millionaire Griffin is now Private Griffin, yes, private in the rear ranks and one of the most enthusiastic of this eager band of men, all anxious to get into Mexico.

A Dinner for "the Bunch"

As Private Griffin passed Major Vincent's tent yesterday morning, the major called to him and said: "Griffin, what are you going to do with all this fifteen dollars per which the government is paying you?"

"It's a lot of money," answered the millionaire, "but I use it for a little dinner for the bunch once a month."

Six all-American football stars are to be found serving as privates today with this battalion. Three others were among America's team in the Olympic games which thrilled the world. Private Schwartz is the all-American champion swimmer.

"Dick" Dunn, son of Governor Dunn, who obtained a brief furlough to be married today is a corporal in this organization.

Some of the Notables

Captain H. J. Reilly, of Battery E, is a West Pointer. He is a representative of the Chicago Tribune, in which capacity he accompanied the troops in the first drive thru Belgium at the beginning of the war in Europe. Because of his vast experience in Europe, his training at West Point, and extensive technical study, he is considered by Major Vincent as one of his most valuable men. Captain Reilly's father was a soldier. He lost his life at Peking during the Boxer uprising. As he was shouting a command to his men, a bullet struck him in the head and he was instantly killed.

Captain E. A. Ewing, of Battery D, is a graduate of Annapolis.

Captain Hugh R. Montgomery, adjutant to Major Vincent, is a graduate of the Virginia Military school. He was champion high hurdler and recognized as one of the leading athletes of the country.

Numbered among the men of this command are five cadet colonels from state universities and fifteen or sixteen captains of university cadet corps.

"See that handsome young fellow over there?" said Major Vincent, as he pointed to a muscular soldier who strode to his tent like a Roman gladiator. "That's Private—You got that, didn't you—Private Ortmeyer, full back on the Yale Varsity football team and inter-collegiate middle weight champion wrestler."

"That husky lad with him," further explained the major, "is Harold Burnham, also a crack wrestler, a fine man and the athlete from whom Ortmeyer won the wrestling championship."

Athletes Are Waiters

Both these college graduates are successful business men. Today they are privates in the service, eager for any duty and anxious to go to the front. At officers' mess yesterday they were waiting on table. "We learned this at the College Inn," laughed Burnham, as he turned to "Jess" Willard, the jet black negro cook, and ordered:

"Demitasse, please."

But instead of a "demitasse" the cook produced a large tin cup of black coffee, which the college wrestler downed like a veteran.

Bruce Smith, another of the well-known members of the battalion, a vice president of the Northern Trust company, Chicago.

Herman Cortland, soldier, was an aide to General Pershing in Mexico. He was especially assigned by the war department to Major Vincent's battalion to assist in developing the riding ability of the men in the ranks.

At present there are 420 men and officers in the battalion. Each of the three batteries will be recruited to 171, the full quota, or a total of 513.

This organization is not a new one. It is well drilled, well equipped and efficient. It is ready for war and no less eager for a real fight.

That this battalion will make a powerful fighting unit cannot be doubted. Yesterday, as they assembled for mess, each group looked like the line of a football team. Backing this potential muscular force with college-developed brain power, are guns of the three-inch type, and identical with the 75-centimeter guns used with such deadly effect by the French against the Germans.

Men All Trained

One year before the European war broke out, this battalion was organized by Major Vincent. He successfully backed legislation providing for its development. Each of the three batteries has been equipped at a cost of $150,000, or a total of $450,000, for the entire command.

"These men, privates and all, are men of technical training," said Major Vincent. "Many of them are expert mathematicians. Many of the men in our ranks are qualified to make excellent officers. Besides having had long practical military training, they have had courses of lectures. An evidence of what these men can do is found in the fact that this battalion was singled out from all of the artillery of Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa for special commendation by the war department's

TWO JUDGES DISSENTED IN SCHOOL BOND CASE

Opinion of Judges Cartwright and Dunne Is Given—Consider Charter Repeal Act Unconstitutional.

In giving yesterday the supreme court finding in granting writ of mandamus in the Jacksonville school case mention was made that Judges Cartwright and Dunn had filed an opinion also dissenting from the majority. The text of the dissenting opinion was in the following language:

"The law by virtue of which a city exercises its powers and performs its duties constitute its charter. Section 11 of the charter of the city of Jacksonville providing for a system of schools was not abrogated by the organization of the city under the general city incorporation act (Smith v. People, 154 Ill., 58), but continued as the law under which the duty was imposed upon the city of sustaining graded schools and by virtue of which as a part of its charter it exercised the powers granted to it for that purpose. Argument that the act of 1915 repealing section 11 is special is unnecessary, for it applies by name to the city of Jacksonville alone. (Pettibone v. West Chicago Park Commissioners, 215 Ill., 304.) A statute which by its terms can have application to but one locality in the state is special legislation. The act amended the charter of the city, for it changed the law under which the city exercised its powers. The opinion of the majority assumes that section 11 of the special charter of the city of Jacksonville was a part of its charter at the time of the passage of the act of 1915 and does not state that the act is a general law or that it is not a special law. It merely holds that the statute is valid because it tends to promote uniformity in the character of the organization of incorporated cities and in the management of their schools and not to perpetuate dissimilarity. That is to say that the constitutional provision against the amendment of a city charter by a special law may be disregarded in this instance because the special law tends to promote uniformity. The same argument may be made for the amendment of every special charter in the state by a special law. Uniformity may be desirable, but the constitution has provided that in the case of the charter of towns, cities and villages it must be brought about by general laws and not be a special law for each case.

"It is said that it may well be that article 11 of the special charter of the city of Jacksonville is different from the school provisions of the special charters of any other city in the state.

"The different provisions in the charter cannot be made the basis of a classification of such municipalities and of special legislation based upon such classification. (People vs. Board of Trustees, 170 Ill., 468.) It is within the power of the legislature by the enactment of laws uniform in their operation to bring about uniformity of organization and power in all the towns, cities and villages in the state, but the constitution has forbidden that this shall be done by special acts of legislature for particular cases.

"The writ of mandamus should be denied."

QUINCY MAN SEVERELY INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE COLLISION

Cousin of Mrs. Alden Brown of This City Fainted While Driving Car and Accident Resulted.

The Quincy Journal gives the following account of a peculiar accident in Quincy wherein August R. Dorkenwald, a cousin of Mrs. Alden Brown of this city, was seriously injured: "August R. Dorkenwald of 1224 Park place, is in Blessing hospital; Charles Binkert, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Binkert of 1240 Park place, is at his home because of his injuries; the Dorkenwald's big McFarland automobile will be sent back to the factory for repairs and Ira Calkins' Packard automobile is being repaired at the Electric Wheel works as a result of a head-on collision of the two cars on Kentucky street just west of Eleventh, yesterday afternoon.

"Mr. Dorkenwald was driving his car, in which he and the Binkert boy were riding, east on Kentucky and W. Y. McAllister, chauffeur for John Stillwell, was driving Mr. Calkins' car, in which no one else was riding, west on the same street.

"Mr. McAllister says that there appeared to be plenty of room for the two cars, which he estimated were each traveling twelve miles an hour, to pass. He says that suddenly Mr. Dorkenwald appeared to collapse and fell over in his seat, turning his car directly into the Calkins' auto.

"Mr. Dorkenwald, who is a traveling salesman for the Tenk Hardware company, has recently been sick and he was rendered unconscious by his injuries and the shock. He was removed to the Blessing hospital where it was found that he had a gash over his eye and a gash under his chin. He was delirious for a time, but later was reported to be much improved.

RECEIVE RUSH ORDER

Utah State Militia Ordered to Mexican Border at Once

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 24.—Additional instruction received from the war department today directed that all units of the state militia be sent to the border as soon as possible without waiting for complete mobilization. The battery of field artillery will probably be the first organization to leave and is expected to go Monday or Tuesday, closely followed by a squadron of the cavalry.

10,000 MEN UNDER CANVAS.

Mount Gretna, Pa., June 24.—Pennsylvania today mobilized nine regiments of infantry and a battalion of engineers at Camp Brumbaugh. Tonight close to 10,000 men in command of Major General C. M. Clement are under canvas. The mobilization was effected without casualties.

NOT READY FOR SERVICE.

Sacramento, Cal., June 24.—It will be ten days or two weeks before any unit of the California National Guard entrains for the Mexican border and it now practically is certain that every unit of the guard will mobilize at the state mobilization camp before proceeding to duty at the front unless rush orders are received.

TO PURCHASE MORE SUPPLIES. St. Louis, June 24.—Instructions were received by the depot quartermaster of the United States army here today to receive bids at once for 250,000 additional pairs of shoes. Orders also were received to increase the clothing supply. More than 14,000 blankets were sent to Des Moines today for the Iowa national guard.

SENATE CHANGES BILL

Section for Relief of Dependents of Guardsmen Stricken Out.

Washington, June 24.—A favorable report on the house resolution authorizing the president to draft immediately into the federal service national guardsmen willing to take the prescribed oath was ordered today by the senate military committee after it had stricken out a provision appropriating $1,000,000 for the relief of dependents of guardsmen and another limiting the term of service to three years.

A substitute adopted for the relief provision would direct that guardsmen with dependents having no means of support be discharged.

Service of guardsmen taken into the federal army is limited only to the "period of the emergency."

Washington, June 24.—The $127,000,000 civil appropriation passed the house late today and went to the senate. The house rejected a proposal for a $10,000,000 government war munitions plant but added $50,000 to the appropriation for printing farmers' bulletins.

Representative Keating in offering the munitions amendment said it presented a vital problem and that every United States arsenal except that at Rock Island, Ill., was geographically located in violation of fundamental principles of the army war college.

Mr. Hughes thanked the villagers for their kindness and asked them to regard him henceforth as a neighbor.

PUBLIC INDIFFERENT

Argentine Opinion Concerned Indifferently With Mexican Question

Buenos Aires, June 24.—Public opinion in Argentina is concerned rather indifferently with the Mexican question. Most of the papers deplore the conflict between Mexico and the United States, but express hope of an early solution of the difficulties. The erroneous news published here by several papers that Ecuador and Salvador had notified General Carranza that they would join Mexico in case of war with the United States caused a momentary impression but the press attributed no importance to it.

La Manna, the organ of the conservative party, thinks that great difficulties would prevent successful mediation by the A. B. C. powers, but that it is necessary to make an effort to prevent the calamity of war and make known to the world who is responsible.

Federal Church Council Establishes New Department

The sending of money or goods to the relief agencies of any of the warring countries is no longer a problem. "I don't know how to reach them," can no longer serve as an excuse. A sort of central clearing house has been established in the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America thru which any organization or country can be reached.

The Federal Council prefers to have contributions sent direct to the relief fund the giver chooses, but the result of an appeal in behalf of all the relief funds issued by this organization a month ago was the receipt of many checks. Ex-President Taft, Judge Alton B. Parker, Seth Low and others endorsed and emphasized the appeal, and the Federal Council found itself forced to establish a new department.

"We will gladly give information," said Dr. Charles C. Macfarland, General Secretary of the Council, "as to the needs of any land and the most direct means of relieving them. While we have not deemed it advisable to add another fund to the excellent organizations in existence, we are willing upon request to receive and distribute funds, whenever possible thru the existing organizations. Contributions should be addressed to the Federal Council War Relief Fund, 105 East 22nd Street, New York City, and checks should be made payable to the 'War Relief Fund'."

At a conference of the representatives of the outstanding war relief organizations in the rooms of the Federal Council on June 6, it was unanimously voted that the Council should send out another appeal. This was done last week, and it was not confined to the 17,742,509 communicants of the Churches which compose the Federal Council, but was addressed to the public as a whole thru the Churches. The results are already flowing in, but the Council has suggested that Citizenship Sunday, July 2, would be an appropriate time for the initial presentation of this new message in the churches and for either the beginning of re-emphasizing of the movement.

30,000 MOBILIZED

Guardsmen of Department of the East Ready For Service

New York, June 24.—More than 30,000 national guardsmen of the department of the east comprising twenty two states east of the Mississippi and the District of Columbia were in mobilization camp late tonight.

Although Major General Leonard Wood, commanding the department and Major General O'Ryan, commander of the New York national guard are expediting muster and equipment of the troops, efforts were set on foot today to prevent the departure of the guard except as a divisional unit.

The matter was discussed at length at a conference between the two generals today. Major General O'Ryan is opposed to the war department's plan of sending his troops in separate units believing that the efficiency of the force will be lessened. After the conference Major General Wood sent a telegram to General Funston, embodying General O'Ryan's suggestions and recommending the divisional plan. General Funston's reply is expected tomorrow.

Examine Your TEETH Tonight

—after you clean them.

You will find, in all probability, an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding between the crevices. YOUR DENTIFRICE does not FULLY CLEAN! Loss of teeth is caused usually by one of two conditions—Pyorrhea or decay, both of which develop, as a rule, only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.

SENRECO, the recently discovered formula of a dental specialist, is two-fold in its action. First, it REALLY CLEANS, embodying specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Second, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea. Yet it is perfectly safe, containing neither injurious chemicals nor hard grit. Avoid Pyorrhea and decay. Get Senreco from your dealer today. In large tubes, 25c. ANNIVERSARY OF CUSTER'S GREAT FIGHT WILL BE OBSERVED

Forty Years Ago Today Gallant
Troop of Soldiers Went To Death
In Battle With Indians.

Billings, Mont., June 24.—Forty years will have passed tomorrow since General George A. Custer and the gallant men of the Seventh United States Cavalry went to their deaths in the Indian battle on the banks of the Little Big Horn River.
Today arrangements were completed for an impressive observance of the anniversary to take place on the battlefield.

Starting with the modest intention of including only Montana and Wyoming in the celebration, it was later discovered by the arrangements committee that the affair had taken on a national scope and has attracted attention in every section of the country. Five thousand persons are expected to attend the commemoration, and arrangements have been made to care for that number.

Special trains are to leave Billings and Sheridan for the battlefield at an early hour tomorrow morning.
The trains will arrive at the battlefield at about 9:30 o'clock. The Indian village will be pitched on the banks of the river at the foot of the hill where the Custer monument stands—near where Custer made his first defensive halt. The village will consist of about 150 teepees and 2,000 Indians.

At 11 o'clock General E. S. Godfrey, a survivor of Reno's command, will arrive with his party after covering Custer's trail from the mouth of the Rosebud. At a convenient point he will be joined by a guard of veterans. General Godfrey will approach the village in the manner employed by General Custer. From the village he will proceed to the monument, followed by the soldiers and Indians. At the monument General Godfrey will deliver a brief memorial address and a letter will be read from Mrs. George A. Custer, widow of the general. The formal ceremonies will conclude with the firing of a salute over the graves of those who fell in the battle, followed by the sounding of taps by an army bugler.

The afternoon program will be carried out at the fair grounds. A feature will be a big Indian pow-wow and dance to be participated in by Crow Indians under the leadership of the aged Scout Curley, a survivor of Custer's division, though he did not take part in "the last fight" and Chief Plenty Coos of the Crow tribe. The music for the occasion will be furnished by the St. Xavier mission band of Indians and a Crow Indian tomtom band.

The celebration is to commemorate one of the most picturesque chapters in American history and likewise the most disastrous defeat ever suffered by United States troops at the hands of the Indians. It was in the Spring of 1876 that General Terry's expedition, which included Custer's command, was sent against the Sioux tribe. Custer was directed to take his regiment up the Rosebud river to the head waters of the Little Big Horn to co-operate with General Gibbon's command sent up the Big Horn, another tributary of the Yellowstone. The plan was to surround the Indians and prevent their escape.

At 8 o'clock on the morning of June 25, 1876, General Custer had made seventy-three miles and had crossed the divide between the Rose-bud and the Little Big Horn rivers, when he separated his force into three commands, one under Major Reno, another with Captain Benteen in command, and with the five remaining companies he moved up the right bank of the Little Big Horn, expecting the other commands to operate on either flank of the Indian village when discovered.

He struck the Sioux village of 9,000 warriors in the center and it extended one and one quarter miles to his right and left. Reno's division had reached the village on the extreme left given battle and retreated before Custer came up, and the Sioux greatly outnumbering his little force drove him from point to point, annihilating company after company. Finally, left with only forty officers and men, Custer fought the unequal battle three hours and all were slain. With the exception of a single Crow scout, a horse and a dog, not a single person or animal in Custer's charge escaped the terrible slaughter. The victims of the massacre were buried on the battlefield. Subsequently the remains of General Custer were removed to West Point, N. Y., and buried in the cemetery of the United States Military Academy.

ADVERTISING CLUBS OF WORLD READY FOR CONVENTION

Thousands of Delegates Thronging
Philadelphia—Represent Billion Dollar Business—Exchange Ideas
in Business and Salesmanship.

Philadelphia, June 24.—Between 8,000 and 10,000 delegates are garnered here tonight for the opening tomorrow of the Convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World at which purveyors of nearly a billion dollars a year in advertising will exchange ideas in business and salesmanship.

The program for the convention has been divided into thirty departments whose sessions will continue for four days. Various buildings of the University of Pennsylvania have been reserved for these departmental meetings, and in addition there will be two mass meetings for all the delegates in the commercial museum.
The first of these, tomorrow afternoon, will be addressed by Adolph
S. Ochs, of the New York Times; Cyrus H. K. Curtis of the Curtis Publishing company, Philadelphia; R. Goodwin Rhett, president of the National Chamber of Commerce, and N. C. Kingsbury, vice president of the Postal Telegraph company.
Thursday afternoon the second mass meeting will be held when the delegates will sum up the work of the convention. At this session officers will be elected and the city for the next year's convention will be chosen.

Vast Fund For Publicity.
Elaborate preparations have been made for the convention, which leading delegates say will rank as the most important gathering of its kind in the history of the world. Since early last fall an organized campaign of publicity has been carried on throughout the country. More than half a million dollars having been spent in newspaper and magazine advertising, billboards, placards and posters calling attention to the sessions.

While this campaign of national publicity was going on, the Poor Richard Club kept the convention before the Philadelphia public. Business men of the city contributed $38,- 000 to the convention fund while the city appropriated $25,000 more for the entertainment of the delegates.

Between sessions the Poor Richard Club, members of which will act as hosts for the visitors, will stage a series of pageants. The first will be held Monday night in the form of a monster parade on Broad street in which floats representing various periods of the country's development will be seen. One division will illustrate the history of advertising in America. In this will appear "Benjamin Franklin," printing the Pennsylvania Gazette. The Baldwin Locomotive Works will have in line two locomotives, one "Old Ironside," built in 1832 by Matthias Baldwin and the other the latest type turned out of the factory. The J. G. Brill Car Works will show a miniature plant turning out a tiny trolley car every few minutes.

Big Entertainment Program.
Tuesday night a military and naval display will be staged on Franklin Field and on Thursday night a pageant will be held on the Schuylkill river with a procession of floats and a big display of fireworks. Every day during the convention aéro-nauts will make flights over the city in dirigible balloons and band concerts will be held twice a day on the university campus.
The delegates will visit the Philadelphia Navy Yard on Tuesday afternoon for the first public inspection of the new dreadnought Pennsylvania, recently completed at Newport News. The advertising men will be the first visitors to go aboard the new man o'war. On Friday the day after the convention closes, the delegates will go to Atlantic City as the guests of the Poor Richard Club.

Many women accompanied the visitors who arrived today and a program of entertainment is provided for them. There will be a reception at one of the leading hotels on Monday followed by a luncheon with the delegates at the University of Pennsylvania. Tuesday the women will visit the city's big stores and shops and the Philadelphia Navy Yard. On Wednesday they will be guests of the Curtis Publishing Company at luncheon in the company's plant and on Thursday they will visit Valley Forge. Out of town clubs will provide cabarets at the hotels each night.

ANDREW RUSSEL DECIDES NOT TO MAKE RACE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Announcement Made Saturday that He Will Seek Office of State Auditor.

In Chicago yesterday State Treasurer Andrew Russel made announcement of the fact that he has determined not to be a candidate for the governorship. For a number of weeks there has been some uncertainty as to Mr. Russel's intentions but he has been reticent on the point until Saturday. His statement yesterday was brief and without going into details he declared that he would not be a candidate for governor but that he would seek preferment as state auditor.

It developed that Mr. Russel has had this matter in mind for a considerable time and after going over the situation carefully, determined upon his announced course. As a candidate for auditor Mr. Russel is not the representative of any faction but will seek the nomination on the basis of his experience in financial affairs and his record as a Republican.

GRACE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY MET

The June meeting of the Home Missionary society of Grace church was held recently at the residence of Mrs. Berry on West College avenue. Mrs. Charles Hopper led the devotional exercises and then Miss Groves gave a splendid paper on "Social Powers." She was followed by Mrs. Woodman, who read a leaflet, "The Most Beautiful Thing in the World." The writer emphasized in a very forceful way the true missionary spirit. In the absence of Mrs. Smith the enigma program was conducted by Mrs. Hopper. The report of the treasurer showed the total amount of collections as $13.88. Mrs. Hopper made her mother a perpetual member of the organization by the payment of a $30 fee. Following the program all lingered for a social hour which proved very enjoyable. The next meeting will be held in July with Mrs. Charles Hopper.

DR. HIERONYMOUS WILL ADDRESS 2ND. ANNUAL FEDERATION MEETING

Community Advisor from State University to Speak at Gathering of Morgan County Women Wednesday, July 5.

Dr. R. E. Hieronymus, of Champaign, community advisor, will be in Jacksonville Wednesday, July 5, and will address the second annual meeting of the Morgan County Federation of Women's clubs, according to word received by Mrs. Ben Lurton, county president, and Mrs. J. Park, the district to form an organization committee. The women will assemble at Nichols park at 10:30 o'clock and at noon picnic luncheon will be served. Federation vice presidents from the ten counties in the Twentieth district have been invited to attend.

Morgan was the first county of the district to form an organization. The first meeting was held at the park in June, 1915, and since that date two other counties have organized, Cass and Pike. The charter members are the Jacksonville Woman's club, Domestic Science Round Table, East Side Tuesday club, Orleans Country Club, Strawn's Cross-Ing Women's club, Mound Woman's Country club, Murrayville Domestic Science club, Franklin Homemakers' circle, Chapin Household Science club, Chapin Woman's club, Sinclair Woman's club and the Liberty Ladies' Aid society. Good work has marked the first year of organization. The movement for rural school standardization has been furthered and medical inspection in rural schools has been promoted. Many other plans for community betterments have been taken under advisement and the fields of usefulness seem to members of the county federation to be constantly broadening.

The progress for work toward the prevention of tuberculosis will be presented at this meeting. Walter B. Thurber of Chicago, secretary of the state society, has been asked to speak and the local committee is expecting from him a favorable reply.

CIRCUIT COURT ADJOURNED

TO JULY 24.
Judge F. W. Burton, who has been the presiding judge for the May term of the Morgan county circuit court, adjourned the court Saturday until July 24. At that date he will return for a few days to take up cases to be heard without juries. Thus far during the term forty criminal cases, twenty-six law cases and thirty-one chancery cases have been disposed of and quite a number of chancery cases will be concluded during Judge Burton's stay in July. This record shows that the work of the term has been pushed along in a very rapid way.

One of the last cases considered in court was that of C. B. Graff et al against Earl Fox et al. This suit is on a bank obligation involving about $1,500. The case was tried without a jury and time was allowed for the filing of briefs. The case will probably be concluded when Judge Burton returns in July.

ENLISTMENTS COME SLOWLY FOR COMPANY B.

Members Now Living in Other States Declare Themselves Ready to Join Company on Short Notice.

Enlistments are coming in slowly for Co. B. Lieutenants Hale and Dickson said last night that so far six enlistments had been made all for the regular three year national guard service. All of the new recruits are boys from the country.

Letters and telegrams have been received from members of the company who are scattered all over the United States asking for information and saying they will be ready to join the company when the call comes. Homer Paschall sent word from the state of Washington that he was ready and Clarence Chipchase wrote from Helena, Mont.

Lieutenant Hale said that the company needed another trumpeter badly. They have one but must have two before going into service. A trumpeter receives the rank of corporal on enlisting.

One thing the officers emphasize was that the company is in first class condition and ready to report on the shortest notice. The officers and men are not in the least discouraged. They watch closely the developments in Mexico and all are of the opinion that the call will come within the next few days.
